Oxyfresh Partners with Oral Health America

COEUR d'ALENE, Idaho — Oxyfresh announces it is joining forces with Oral Health America (OHA) to help create awareness of underprivileged children's need for access to dental care. As a proud sponsor of OHA's Smiles Across America® program, Oxyfresh is providing direct financial support as well as opening participation to its network of distributors, customers and dental professionals.

Smiles Across America was launched by Oral Health America in 2004 as a year-round, school-based (or school-linked) program supporting oral disease prevention for children from low income families who are uninsured or underserved. This program supports services including dental screenings, sealants and education for more than 250,000 children annually.

Although dental caries (tooth decay) is largely preventable, it still remains the most common chronic children's disease. Sadly, dental disease is responsible for over 51 million school hours lost each year.

Oxyfresh is honored to take part in raising awareness of the importance of dental care to the overall health and well-being of children.
