SEPTODONT PLEDGES TO HELP ORAL HEALTH AMERICA BRING HEALTHY SMILES TO LIFE

December 8, 2010, Chicago, IL—Septodont, a manufacturer of products for dental professionals, has pledged to help Oral Health America (OHA) support healthy smiles. The company announced it will donate 10 percent of every $500 spent on its N'Durance Composites through February 28, 2011 to OHA. The total donation will be presented during OHA's annual gala in February 2011.

To participate, practices should fax their invoices to Kathy Whitaker at (717) 560-3480 or email her at kwhitaker@septodontna.com.

Septodont has been developing, manufacturing and distributing a wide range of high quality products for dental professionals for more than 75 years. The company has six manufacturing plants in North America, France and India with products ranging from pain control, endodontics, restorative dentistry, infection control and more.

Oral Health America's mission is to change lives by connecting communities with resources to increase access to oral health care, education and advocacy for all Americans, especially those most vulnerable. For more information, visit www.oralhealthamerica.org.
